

BOX CITY WORKSHOP

Land Planning Solutions, Inc. (LPS) specializes in providing customized educational opportunities for educators, community-based agencies and children of all age levels throughout the State of Florida.

Through our innovative and interactive Box City Workshop, Land Planning Solutions' team of certified land use planners teach children the fundamental concepts of urban planning and the importance of carefully considering our built environment during the decision-making process. Participants are introduced to the urban planning profession in general, the basic components needed in every city and the important interrelationships between a variety of land uses.

Additionally, Box City teaches children a variety of important lessons beyond city planning, such as teamwork, design, cooperation, and the importance of our communities and neighborhoods.

Land Planning Solutions offers half- or full day workshops that can be tailored to a variety of ages and education levels. Each program includes an introduction to the building permit process, in which participants "apply" for their mock building permit. Following instruction and discussion of planning basics, participants the design/decorate and locate their buildings on the town grid in appropriate zoning locations.

The Result: a complete city, a fun lesson and lots of smiles!

There are many educational benefits that Land Planning Solutions' Box City Program can provide your group. Please contact Allison D. Megrath, AICP at (239) 405-7983 or allison@lpsfl.us for more information about our different learning packages and rates. Ideal for schools, YMCA's, homeschooling programs, Boys and Girls Clubs and more!
